Junior Class To Present Play

On November 25, 1975 the Junior Class at Appomattox County High School will present the first Junior Class play in over 15 years. The play is entitled YOU WERE BORN ON A ROTTEN DAY, a comedy written by Christopher Sergel.

The play will be presented to the school in a matinee performance and to the public in an evening performance at 7:30 p.m. Admission prices are 50c for the matinee and $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children and students for the evening performance.

Juniors at ACHS have been working extremely hard on the play for over a month. Some members of the cast include David Covington, Susan Rosser, Janice Giles, Joe Ford, Kenny Wayne Carter, and Teresa Cyrus.

The play basically involves the conflicts of astrology and astronomy and the problems they present. It is presented in a very humorous fashion and should provide entertainment for the whole family.

The Junior Class at ACHS asks for your support. Come out to their play and enjoy an evening of entertainment and find out if YOU WERE BORN ON A ROTTEN DAY.

County Line

V. A. INFORMATION SERVICE

Editor's Note: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is availabel at any VA office.

Q– A veteran is enrolled in an aproved adult education course to obtain a high school diploma. May he receive tutorial assistance?

A– No. A veteran pursuing a post-secondary education program on a half-time or more basis at an educational institution may receive tutorial assistance. Veterans pursuing a high school program are not considered to be pursuing a post-secondary educational program.

Q– Are there enough women veterans to form one national women veterans organizations that could make its voice heard in veterans affairs? What states have the largest number of women veterans?

A– There are 562,000 living women veterans of the U. S. armed forces, of whom 13,000 are in the World War I age group. Relatively large numbers in the younger age group live in California, New York, Ohio, Pennsyivania, Illinois, Michigan and Texas.

Q– Will the Veterans Administration pay transportation charges in addition to the $800 burial allowance for a service-connected death of a veteran in a VA facilty?

A– Yes. In addition to the amount payable for the funeral transportation costs may be paid when death occurs in a VA hospital.
